Whereas, the university is dedicated to the encouragement and advancement of student civic engagement and participation,

Whereas, to that end, it is important to have not only an unbiased news source for students, but also an unbiased political news source to keep students informed on various aspects of the political process, the issues, the candidates, etc.,

Whereas, "CNN" has been deemed one such source of this information both in terms of news and political news (not to be confused with "CNN Headline News," which is currently a part of the cable package in residence halls, though mainly just a news source);

Be it resolved, that we, the University of Wisconsin River Falls Student Senate, the elected representatives of the student body, strongly urge the university, more specifically, Residential Life, to add "CNN" to the cable television lineup in the residence halls.

Seconded by: Director Halverson
