H. Attach Request Narrative Program Change-Removing course SPSY 769 as a potential elective from Tentative Degree Program

In an effort to provide students with courses directly related to school counseling program faculty are reviewing all courses currently listed as elective courses. SPSY 769, Psycho-educational consultation, is a course that we would like to remove from the list of potential electives for two reasons: (1) our goal is to offer elective courses which directly relate to the current practice of school counseling, (2) this course has not been "elected" by a school counseling student in the last 5 years.

II. UNIT APPROVALS: Requires signatures of all Department Chairs and Deans whose programs will be substantially affected by the changes or proposal. To: Mark Gillen <mark.gillen@uwrf.edu>

Dr. Gillen,

Thanks for checking with me about your decision to drop SPSY 769 as an elective for counseling students. The school psychology program has no objections to this move. If I can be of further assistance, please let me know.

Director, School Psychology Program

H. Attach Request Narrative Credit Change from 40 to 45 credits: The counseling program is in the process of evaluating the number of credits required to complete the program. National standards (CACREP) require 48 credits for a school counseling program.

Currently UWRF counseling program requires 40 credits to graduate. More than half of our students no longer have a background in education, therefore, they are required to take "elective" 6 credits to meet DPI requirements. These students end up with 42 credits upon graduation.

Other students are encouraged to take COUN 770, leaving them with one elective credit.

In order to provide opportunity for more elective credits, and to draw our program closer in line with national standards, we are requesting a move to 45 credits to graduate beginning in Fall 2011.

H. Attach Request Narrative Program Change-Moving COUN 770 from elective to required course on Tentative Degree Pattern: Four years ago the Counseling Program updated COUN 770 (K-12 Curriculum for School Counselors) to not only include classroom management issues, but also training in the Wisconsin Comprehensive School Counseling Model (2006) equivalent to training for Wisconsin School Counselors. This course has been so successful, with outcomes relevant for all students, that we are proposing that it be moved from an elective to a required course.
