

Center for Economic Research
College of Business & Economics
Friday Seminar Series¹
Spring Semester 2005-06

Date → ↓	Name & Email Address of the Presenter	Title of the Presentation	Brief Description
February 17, 2006	Suzy Rogers (Business Law Faculty) Suzy.k.Rogers@uwrf.edu & Claire Kilian(Management Faculty) Claire.m.Kilian@uwrf.edu	The Case of the Rock and Roll Partnership: an interactive collaborative learning exercise	Showing students how knowledge gleaned in their courses may be applied in actual business situations can be a challenge. The presentation will focus on a specific exercise created for undergraduate business law students.
March 3, 2006	Travis Tubre (Psychology Faculty- Invited Guest Presentation) Travis.tubre@uwrf.edu	Gender Differences in Responses to Same-Sex and Opposite-Sex Sexual Harassment	This study examines gender differences in responses to sexual harassment behavior. Implications for training interventions to reduce sexual harassment will be discussed.
March 24, 2006	Anthony Varghese (Computer Science and Information Systems Faculty) anthony.varghese@uwrf.edu	Mathematical modeling of atrial fibrillation due to a gene mutation	Colleagues in Australia found a gene mutation that predisposes members of a family to life-threatening atrial fibrillation events. Computer simulation of the normal and mutated protein show how the mutation has its effect.
April 7, 2006	Reza Rahgozar (Finance Faculty) Reza.Rahgozar@uwrf.edu	Are Share Values Good Measure of Company Performance?	This study investigates the relationship between stock prices of the Dow Jones Industrial, Transportation, and Utility Indexes with several financial and market variables.
April 28, 2006	Hamid Tabesh (Economics Faculty) Hamid.Tabesh@uwrf.edu	Determinants of Choice of Business Major: A Case Study	Using a survey data of Business students at UW-RF, this paper investigates factors influencing their choice of major.

- 1. Social and Refreshment Time: 3.00-3.15 PM in Room 317 South Hall.
Presentations: 3.15 -4.00 PM in Room 321 South Hall.
Please address your questions to Hamid Tabesh at :
Hamid.Tabesh@uwrf.edu