Policy

1. It is the goal of the University to provide a residential dining program that is nutritious, economical and convenient for students.
2. The residence halls on campus are not designed to provide cooking facilities for all the residents in the halls. It is, therefore, the purpose of the University to provide a residential dining program with adequate facilities to support the dining needs of students.
3. It is the purpose of the University to operate the residential dining program in an efficient and solvent manner that will ensure financial resources to provide for debt service payments and maintenance to Dining Services facilities and equipment.
4. The University strives to provide a stable number of students in the residential dining program to receive a cost effective bid from prospective food contractors.

University Responsibilities

All students residing in University residence halls are required to participate on an approved residential dining program. Exemptions may be granted as follows:

- a. Students residing in the South Fork Suites residence hall.

Background

- a. The Board of Regents Resolution dated May 5, 1972, states that for students under the age of 21: “Those freshman and sophomore students who are not veterans, married or living with parents or guardian, shall be required to live in a University-operated residence hall when such accommodations are available.”
- b. The residential dining program is located in the University Center. Due to this, Dining Services pays a portion of the University Center debt service payment.
