According to the Higher Learning Commission, “Faculty teaching in graduate programs should hold the terminal degree determined by the discipline and have a record of research, scholarship or achievement appropriate for the graduate program.” Several qualifications are considered assets for hire either as an instructional/academic staff or tenure-track faculty member in the Animal and Dairy Science programs at the University of Wisconsin – River Falls.

Candidates for graduate faculty status have earned a terminal degree (i.e. earned credential), that is a PhD in Animal Science, Dairy Science, Poultry Science or closely related field.

In addition, they have a record of research, scholarship, and achievement that includes:

- A refereed publication in the last 5 years or
- An oral presentation at a National or Regional Conference in the past 5 years or
- A poster presentation at a National or Regional Conference in the past 5 years
