Re: UWRF Faculty Senate Motion 2018-19/81

The following motion was approved with 14 in favor, 2 opposed, and 2 abstentions by the Faculty Senate on April 3, 2019:

Motion from the Faculty Welfare and Personnel Policies Committee (Doug Margolis, Chair) to approve the following change to 9.2.3.2, as amended in blue by the Executive Committee:

9.2.3.2 Working Syllabus

Campus policies on inclusion, respect, ability/disability accommodation, and academic integrity and/or link to campus policies regarding, respect, ability/disability accommodation, and academic integrity.

Individual instructors may set reasonable policies regarding the recording of instructional materials and lectures that are presented in an academic course. These policies may include the recording of materials and lecture, which is allowed only after receiving advance permission from the instructor of record in writing.

In the event that personal recordings are allowed, they are meant specifically for personal study and may not be distributed or circulated or sold without permission in writing from the instructor.
Students in violation of this policy are subject to disciplinary action and will be referred to the appropriate institutional office.

Instructors retain the ability to modify aspects of the class in order to meet course objectives and to respond to student needs and interests as long as such modifications are consistent with both the official course specifications and any written departmental expectations (i.e. approved formally by the department) and that they are communicated to students in a timely manner.
