HON 190.01: Honors Seminar

This class will introduce students to the core competencies required of all Honors students: Global Engagement/Awareness; Rhetorical Skill/Communication Skills; Community Engagement; Sustainability; and Undergraduate Research, Scholarly and Creative Activity (URSCA). Students will learn why these topics are important to their lives as well as society in general. By the end of the seminar, each student will have a detailed and personalized plan for completing the Honors Program.

HON 371.01, 02, and 03: Honors Service Learning

Honors students may earn Honors credit for any unpaid service work that benefits the community in some way and that does not count toward another class. This class can be taken for one, two, or three credits and is repeatable and graded on a pass/fail basis: HON 371.01 equals 45 hours of volunteer work; HON 371.02 equals 90 hours; and HON 371.03 equals 135 hours. All students must complete a form indicating their plans for the volunteer hours prior to enrolling in the class; the form is available online or in the Honors office (Hagestad Hall 139). At the end of the class, students must have proof of their volunteer hours and must complete a required reflection on the course in order to receive credit. This class will count toward the “Community Engagement” requirement of revised Honors Program or as general honors credits in the old curriculum.

HON 498.01, 02, and 03: Honors Project

(Only available to students under the Honors Program curriculum prior to Fall 2015)

At least one credit of HON 498 is required of all participants in the pre-Fall 2015 Honors Program, but the class may be taken as 1, 2, or 3 credits depending on the depth of the project proposed. Section 01 is worth 1 credit; section 02 is worth 2 credits; and section 03 is worth 3 credits. All students must complete a form indicating their plans for HON 498 prior to enrolling in the class; the form is available online or in the Honors office (Hagestad Hall 139). Please consult Dr. Hunzer about your project to decide whether your project is worth one, two, or three credits.
