UWRF ‘Sustainability Definition’

“UWRF defines sustainability as our local and global responsibility to meet the needs of present and future generations, as demonstrated by an integrated set of ecologic, social, and economic values, principles, and practices that frame how we think, choose, and act in personal, professional, and community life.”

UWRF ‘Sustainability Research Definition’

“Research, scholarly, and creative activity that examines, documents, and portrays the breadth and depth of basic and applied contexts of UWRF’s Definition of Sustainability [UWRF defines sustainability as our local and global responsibility to meet the needs of present and future generations, as demonstrated by an integrated set of ecologic, social, and economic values, principles, and practices that frame how we think, choose, and act in personal, professional, and community life.]”