Falcon Stories

Falcons Take 8th in Season Closer

Oct. 8, 2006

The Falcons end the 2006 season with a combined score of 816 from Saturday and Sunday of the WIAC Women's Golf Championship.

Eau Claire led the tournament after day one on Saturday with 319 strokes and won the tournament after day two Sunday with a total of 660 strokes. The team also won for the first time ever an automatic invitation to the NCAA Division III Championship, which will be held May 8-11, 2007 in Howey-in-the-Hills, Florida.

Oshkosh and Whitewater held second and third places from day one and managed to hold off Stevens Point from their places after day two. Oshkosh shot 668, Whitewater a 674, and Stevens Point took fourth with 686 strokes.

Falcon Jenna Gutzwiller led the Falcons with a five-way tie for 22nd place shooting a 92 on the first day. Gutzwiller ended the tournament in a tie for 28th place with 189 strokes. Torie Ives of Eau Claire shot one of the all-time top scores in the WIAC with 73 strokes (the course is a par 72) Saturday. Ives and Jennifer Young of Oshkosh tied for the tournament win Sunday; Ives and Young shot a 158. Stephanie Campbell of Whitewater followed in close pursuit of a three-way tie for first place with 159 strokes, which put her in third place.

Falcons Katie Kantrud, Courtney Swanson, and Alana Peterson ended day one in similar circumstances. Kantrud shot the best of the three tying for 41st after day one with 100 strokes. Kantrud managed to claim 39th place shooting for a total of 198. Swanson had a nine-stroke improvement from day one and shot for a total score of 209 day two and moved into 43rd place from 45th place after day one. Peterson finished with 220 strokes enough for 48th place.

Falcons Will Approach Day Two of the 2006 WIAC Women's Golf Championship in 8th Place

Oct. 7, 2006

The Falcons shot 412 strokes as a team today in the first day of the WIAC Women's Golf Championship.

Eau Claire leads the tournament after day one with 319 strokes. Eau Claire has golfed well throughout the 2006 season and is a prospect for a national invitation this spring. Oshkosh holds second place with a score of 332 and Whitewater trails slightly with 335 strokes into day two of the tournament.

Falcon Jenna Gutzwiller leads the Falcons with a five-way tie for 22nd place shooting a 92 on the first day. Torie Ives of Eau Claire shot one of the all-time top scores in the WIAC with 73 strokes (the course is a par 72) that swung her into first place for individuals heading into day two. Jessica Thompson of Eau Claire follows Ives with 76 strokes and Stephanie Campbell of Whitewater holds third place with a score of 78.

Falcons Katie Kantrud, Courtney Swanson, and Alana Peterson end day one in similar circumstances. Katrud shot the best of the three tying for 41st after day one with 100 strokes. Swanson shot a 109 putting her in 45th at the present and Peterson follows closely with a score of 111, enough for a tie in 46th place.

The Falcons will compete in day two of the WIAC Women's Championship Sunday October 8th at Windwood in Watertown. Tee time is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

Falcons in 8th, Gutzwiller Tied for 18th After Day One of Stevens Point Invitational
Sept. 30, 2006
